

SARAH GRACE AND THE SOUL

BIO

Sarah Grace is a 16 year old Indie/Roots singer and musical powerhouse from Houston, Texas. She is best known as a semi-finalist from season 15 of The Voice where she has been described as a "pint-sized powerhouse" by Adam Levine. Sarah Grace's blind audition performance of "Ball and Chain," earned her an impressive 3 chair turn, over 2 million YouTube views, and had the coaches fighting it out over her. After much deliberation Sarah Grace chose a fellow Texan, Kelly Clarkson to be her coach and established a bond that will last long after the show. Sarah Grace's powerful performance of "Amazing Grace" on the Voice, can be described as her signature moment, establishing her as a legitimate artist. The recording immediately shot to #3 on the overall iTunes charts, gained 1 million YouTube views, and has lived on the Gospel/Christian charts of iTunes ever since. After the Voice, Sarah Grace's debut original release "What I Came For" also enjoyed a run at #1 on the iTunes Blues charts and scored an impressive 7.8 on ReverbNation's reviews. Sarah Grace is no stranger to performing, having performed over 100 shows in 2018, and now tours nationally with her band Sarah Grace and The Soul, comprised of equally talented young musicians. They have won multiple awards including being named as the "Best Newcomer" for 2019 by the Houston Press as well as representing Houston twice as the youth representative for the International Blues Challenge in Memphis. Recently, Sarah Grace added being an endorsed artist by the legendary Hammond Organ company to her resume. Off stage, Sarah Grace attends the prestigious High School for the Performing and Visual Arts as a trumpet major and she performs in their orchestra, jazz and concert band ensembles.
